

NIR

PowderView

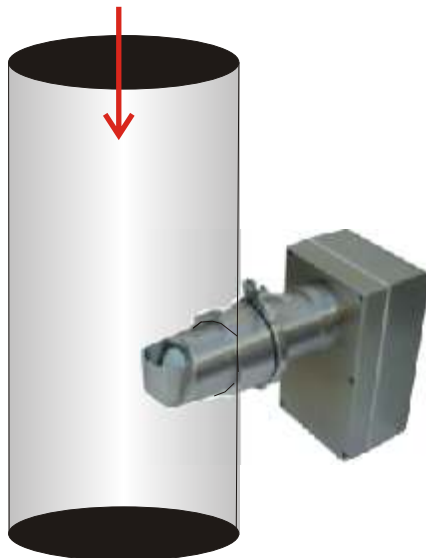

Moisture Sampler with Realtime Readings

The PowderView has been designed to measure moisture in pipelines. Its real time results give it excellent advantages over conventional moisture reading systems.

PharmaView installed in a vertical pipeline

Product Flow

- Measure and control moisture variation in manufacturing processes
- Increase product yield by operating closer to the upper specification limit
- Reduce startup times
- Reduce scrap by operating within specification

Call now for further information